

Today in History

June 1, 1938

▲ Cartoon hero Superman made his first appearance in the first issue of Action Comics, featuring the work of writer Jerry Siegel and artist Joe Shuster

1973: Greece's military government abolished the monarchy and proclaimed a republic

2003: Water levels rose as the gates of the Three Gorges Dam on China's Yangtze River were closed

2008: Yves Saint Laurent, one of the pre-eminent fashion designers of the 20th century, died in Paris, aged 71

2022: U.S. President Joe Biden confirmed the U.S. would provide Ukraine with long-range rockets