

Today in History

June 5, 2022

▲ Queen Elizabeth II made her last ever appearance on the balcony of Buckingham Palace, following Platinum Jubilee celebrations to mark her 70-year reign

1947: U.S. Secretary of State George Marshall outlined his plan to help Europe recover financially from WWII

1953: Denmark's new constitution saw Greenland and the Faroes become integral parts of Denmark

1968: U.S. Senator Robert Kennedy was assassinated at a Los Angeles hotel during his presidential campaign

1977: The Apple II, the world's first personal computer, went on sale, and soon pulled ahead of its rivals