

Race to find survivors after Morocco quake

Foreign aid and rescue teams are joining efforts to find survivors in the rubble, as emergency services battle to supply remote areas

INTERNATIONAL AID

SPAIN: 86 search and rescue specialists plus eight sniffer dogs

TUNISIA: 50 paramedics and specialist personnel, thermal monitoring devices

QATAR: 81 search and rescue personnel and nine vehicles

UAE: Police, rescue, and ambulance teams, plus food and shelter equipment

BRITAIN: 60 specialists, four dogs and four-person medical team

U.S.: Small team of disaster experts to identify humanitarian needs

OFFERING HELP: Countries awaiting formal request for assistance include France, Algeria, Turkey, Israel, Kuwait, Oman and Taiwan