

Sony puts PS5 in palm of your hand

Sony's new PlayStation Portal Remote Player allows gamers to stream PlayStation 5 games over wi-fi to a handheld device – negating the need to use a television

■ Controls: Familiar to all PlayStation 5 (PS5) users as almost identical to feel of DualSense controller (but with slightly smaller thumbsticks) – includes same haptic feedback and adaptive trigger pressure features

Display: Bright 8-inch LCD display capable of 1080p resolution at 60 frames per second

Charging: USB-C

Audio: 35mm jack

Battery: 7-9 hours

HOW IT WORKS (broadband connection of 15Mbps recommended)

■ Around home

PS5 streams video and audio by wi-fi to Portal, via home modem

Portal streams controller inputs back to PS5 using same wi-fi network

■ Away from home

PS5 streams video and audio by wi-fi to home modem

■ Limitations: Portal has no onboard storage and can only stream games from PS5 console. Games that must be streamed on PS5 using PS Plus Premium membership are not compatible
