

Star Wars prop could fetch £1 million

Film and TV memorabilia, including props from James Bond, Indiana Jones and Star Wars, is to be auctioned in London, with an original C-3PO head expected to fetch up to £1m

Dents

Auction: Nov 9-12

Lot #347, C-3PO helmet: Features in original Star Wars movie (1977) where C-3PO talks with Luke Skywalker, Princess Leia and Han Solo, who are trapped in trash compactor

Condition: Restored with new vacuum-metallised finish

Estimate:
£500,000-£1,000,000

"Screen-matched": Movie artefact that can be categorically connected to same on-screen object

Eyes: Not original. Replaced for The Empire Strikes Back or Return of the Jedi

OTHER ICONIC ITEMS UP FOR AUCTION

Lot #202: Indy's bullwhip – Indiana Jones and the Temple of Doom (1984)

Donated to charity by Harrison Ford

£100,000-£200,000

Features pyrotechnic bullet holes

Fibreglass, felt and leather

£50,000-£100,000

Rewelded broken blade from deleted scene

£200,000-£400,000

Lot #275: Freddy Krueger's clawed glove – A Nightmare on Elm Street 2: Freddy's Revenge (1985)

Lot #157: Russell Crowe's Colosseum armour – Gladiator (2000)

Oil and gouache on board

£25,000-£50,000

Lot #406: Schwarzenegger's leather jacket – Terminator 2: Judgment Day (1991)

£5,000-£10,000

Lot #229: T-rex reference eye – Jurassic Park (1993)

Lot #36: Marty McFly's hoverboard – Back to the Future Parts II (1989), and III (1990)

£70,000-£140,000

Lot #210: Hand-painted poster artwork – Thunderball (1965)

£80,000-£160,000