

Hezbollah's arsenal of weapons

Lebanon's Hezbollah, one of the most heavily-armed, non-state groups in the world, is the most formidable of Iran's allies in its so-called "Axis of Resistance"

STRENGTH

Hezbollah leader Hassan Nasrallah claims his group has 100,000 trained fighters. Other estimates range between 25,000-50,000

OVERALL ARSENAL

Group may possess more than 100,000 rockets. Many are unguided, but it also has precision missiles and drones. Iran is Hezbollah's main weapons supplier

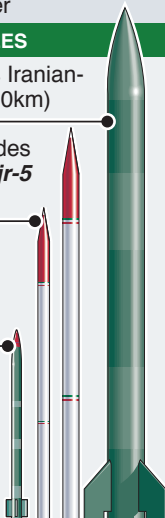

LAND-ATTACK MISSILES

Long range: Includes Iranian-made Zelzal (up to 210km)

Medium range: Includes Iranian Fajr-3 and Fajr-5 (40-75km)

Short range:
Mostly unguided Katyusha rockets (up to 30km)

Ability to retrofit rockets with guidance systems could allow targeting of critical infrastructure and military sites

ANTI-TANK MISSILES

Russian-designed weapons include RPG-29 unguided rocket-propelled grenade launcher (range 500m)

Wire-guided missiles:

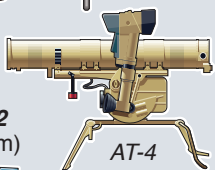

AT-3 Sagger

AT-4 Spigot

AT-5 Spandrel

AT-13 Saxhorn-2

(range 1.5km-4km)

Laser-guided Kornet-E (range 5km)

AIR DEFENCE MISSILES

Short range: Shoulder-fired SA-7, SA-14, SA-16 and SA-18

Short/medium range: SA-8, SA-17 and SA-22

C-802

DRONES

Locally-assembled Ayoub and Mersad models, mostly used for reconnaissance but can carry small ordnance payload

ANTI-SHIP MISSILES

Chinese-developed C-802 (range 120km) and Russian-made Yakhont (300km)
