

Star Wars prop leads memorabilia auction

A second C-3PO head owned by actor Anthony Daniels, this time from Return of the Jedi, could fetch up to a million dollars at auction in LA. In November he sold one used in Star Wars for £687,500 in the UK

Lot #462: Fox Mulder and Dana Scully's FBI Badges – The X-Files (1993-2002)

Lot #33: Unfinished rubber cowl made for Michael Keaton, but never worn – Batman (1989)

Painted foam rubber and PVC

Lot #132: Harry Potter's wand, used by Daniel Radcliffe – Harry Potter And The Prisoner Of Azkaban (2004)

Lot #362: C-3PO head (1983)

$10,000-
$20,000

$25,000-
$50,000

Estimate:
$500,000-
$1,000,000

$60,000-
$120,000

Painted resin

Anthony Daniels

Lot #86: "Captain America" Wyatt's chopper motorcycle, ridden by Peter Fonda – Easy Rider (1969)

Lot #216: Thor's stunt Mjolnir hammer, as used by Chris Hemsworth – Thor (2011)

$200,000-
$400,000

Painted metal

$10,000-
$20,000

Lot #167: SPECTRE agent's metal ring – James Bond: Spectre (2015)

Lot #422: Moses' Ten Commandments tablets, as used by Charlton Heston – The Ten Commandments (1956)

Lot #63: William Wallace's Scottish claymore, as used by Mel Gibson, with restored blade – Braveheart (1995)

$40,000-
$80,000