

Fifty hurt as jet hit by “technical” issue

Fifty people were hurt and 12 were taken to hospital after a plane travelling from Australia to New Zealand experienced a mid-air “technical event”

Boeing 787-9
Dreamliner

AUSTRALIA

Sydney, 11:44am
local time:
Plane departs

Mar 11: Boeing 787 flight from Sydney to Auckland, operated by Chilean airline LATAM, experiences sudden loss of altitude about two hours into three-hour flight.
People injured after hitting roof, some thrown around plane

PACIFIC OCEAN

TASMAN SEA

Auckland,
4:26pm local time:
Plane lands.
Scheduled to fly on to Santiago, Chile

NEW ZEALAND

400km
250 miles