

Poll points to Labour landslide

Labour is on course for a majority of 200 according to a new YouGov projection while the Conservatives will slump to their lowest number of seats since the party's formation in 1834

Predicted seats in 650-seat House of Commons

Labour is on track to smash Tony Blair's record of 418 seats in 1997

Sir Keir Starmer: Labour leader's 425 seats – more than double 202 seats won in 2019 election – beats all previous records since party was founded at start of last century

YouGov/Sky MRP (multilevel regression post-stratification) survey of 39,979 adults, Jun 11-18