

French rail lines disrupted by sabotage

France's high-speed train network was targeted by multiple acts, including arson, disrupting travel for hundreds of thousands of people ahead of the opening ceremony of the Paris Olympics

