

Ukraine strikes Russian arms depots

Ukrainian drone attacks have taken out a record amount of Russian ammunition in a major blow for President Vladimir Putin, according to UK intelligence

Recent strikes reportedly destroyed tens of thousands of tonnes of ammunition, likely causing at least short-term supply disruptions. Attack on Toropets (left) caused fireballs visible from space and blast detected by earthquake monitors