

Humans may be reaching peak lifespan

After years of medical advances the rate at which human life expectancy is rising is slowing down, concludes a new study looking at data in countries where people live the longest

AVERAGE ANNUAL CHANGE IN LIFE EXPECTANCY AT BIRTH (years)

KEY (both charts)

—○— Australia
 —○— France
 —○— Hong Kong
 —○— Italy
 —○— Japan
 —○— South Korea
 —○— Spain
 —○— Sweden
 —○— Switzerland

OBSERVED SURVIVAL TO AGE 100 (% , men and women)

