

Apple boosts India iPhone output

Apple Inc.'s iPhone exports from India jumped by a third in the six months up to September, underscoring its push to expand manufacturing in the country and reduce dependence on China

