

Canada set for snap election

New Prime Minister Mark Carney, a former two-time central banker, is expected to pitch himself as the best candidate to take on Trump, as the country's businesses are shaken by a trade war with the U.S.

■ Mark Carney: Hopes to capitalise on remarkable recovery by his Liberal Party in polls since January, when U.S. President Donald Trump began threatening Canada with tariffs and former Prime Minister Justin Trudeau announced resignation

