

Millions at risk from U.S. foreign aid cuts

Steep cuts to the U.S. Agency for International Development (USAID) threaten to cause more than 14 million avoidable deaths by 2030, according to a study by The Lancet medical journal

Deaths prevented by USAID, 2001-21 (% of total deaths)*

*Estimates based on mortality data from 133 countries and territories

Number of annual deaths caused by cuts in USAID funding†

■ All ages

■ Children younger than five years

†Projections based on 83% reduction announced by U.S. government in Mar 2025