

Israel's plan to relocate Gazans

A proposal by the Israeli defence ministry to move much of Gaza's population to the territory's south threatens to derail the latest efforts to forge a truce between Israel and Hamas

Critics have likened plan – first proposed by Israeli defence minister Israel Katz (above) – to modern-day “concentration camp” because residents would not be allowed to leave area to return home