

UN peacekeeping missions facing cuts

The United Nations is to cut a quarter of peacekeepers in nine operations around the world due to funding insecurities – as President Trump continues to cast doubt on future U.S. contributions

UNITED NATIONS FUNDING

Each UN member state is required to contribute to organisation's administrative and operational costs – United States has historically been largest donor since the body's founding in 1945

United States

31%

Germany

10%

United Kingdom

7%

China

5%

*Assessed, voluntary and other contributions to UN

Share of UN revenue by government donor, 2024*

Other nations
47%

14,000

Estimated number of UN troops and police affected by cuts

26%

United States' contribution to peacekeeping budget

$2.8bn

Total outstanding bill U.S. currently owes UN