

Milei hails midterm election victory

President Javier Milei's party wins Argentina's midterm elections, giving the libertarian leader a strong foothold in Congress to push his free-market policies, which have earned support from President Trump

■ Results push Milei past one-third of seats he needs in lower house to protect his veto power

■ Results welcomed by U.S. President Donald Trump, whose administration has faced criticism after providing Argentina with bailout potentially worth $40 billion

Liberty Advances Milei's party

Seats in lower house: 64

40.7%

Homeland Force Peronist coalition

Seats: 44

31.7%

United Provinces Seats: 8

7.0%

Workers' Left Front Seats: 3

4.8%

Others

Seats: 8

15.8%

*Turnout: 67.92%

99.21% of vote counted*

127 seats in 257-member lower house were contested*