

Japan put on earthquake alert

Authorities in Japan have warned of the heightened possibility of a “megaquake” in the coming days after a magnitude 7.5 tremor struck off the coast of the northern Aomori region

