

EV's dominate Norway's car sales

Over the past decade, Norway has seen a significant shift towards electric vehicles, with a staggering 96% of all new cars sold there in 2025 being electric

NEW CAR SALES IN NORWAY (annual % split by fuel)

Note: Due to vehicle lifespans, only around one third of cars on Norway's roads are currently electric, but this will rise as older vehicles utilising petrol and diesel engines are gradually scrapped

Sources: Sherwood, OFV

Picture: Tesla

© GRAPHIC NEWS