

Donald Trump's Board of Peace

Originally conceived to oversee Trump's 20-point plan for peace and reconstruction in Gaza, its role has broadened to "securing enduring peace" in regions affected by conflict – as a direct rival to the UN

EXECUTIVE BOARD

Chairman:
U.S. President
Donald Trump

Trump retains power to pick Board. Can adopt resolutions on behalf of Board. Can only be replaced due to incapacity or resignation

Marco Rubio
Secretary of State

Steve Witkoff
Special negotiator

Jared Kushner
Trump's son-in-law

Tony Blair,
former UK Prime Minister

Marc Rowan
U.S. billionaire

Ajay Banga
President of World Bank

Robert Gabriel,
National Security Council advisor

INVITATIONS ACCEPTED Three-year term or permanent seat for $1 billion

Albania, Argentina, Armenia, Azerbaijan, Bahrain, Belarus, Egypt, Hungary, Indonesia, Israel, Jordan, Kazakhstan, Kosovo, Morocco, Pakistan, Paraguay, Qatar, Saudi Arabia, Turkey, UAE, Uzbekistan, Vietnam

GAZA EXECUTIVE BOARD: To support effective governance in Gaza

Witkoff, Kushner, Blair plus

Hakan Fidan, Türkiye Minister of Foreign Affairs

Ali Al Thawadi, Qatar Minister for Strategic Affairs

Hassan Rashad, Egypt General Intelligence DG

Reem Al-Hashimy, UAE Minister for International Cooperation

Sigrid Kaag, Netherlands, UN coordinator in Gaza

Yakir Gabay, Israeli-Cypriot real estate mogul

Nickolay Mladenov, Bulgaria, former UN

Middle East envoy, now High Representative for Board of Peace

NATIONAL COMMITTEE FOR THE

ADMINISTRATION OF GAZA

Transition from Hamas to technocrat administration

Mladenov (right)

Dr. Ali Sha'ath, former

Palestinian Authority

deputy minister

