

Europe relies on U.S. energy

Russia's invasion of Ukraine and ensuing punishment by sanctions, saw much of Europe switch dependency for energy imports away from Russia and towards the U.S. – a now uncomfortable reality

Trump gives rambling address in Davos, Jan 21, 2026

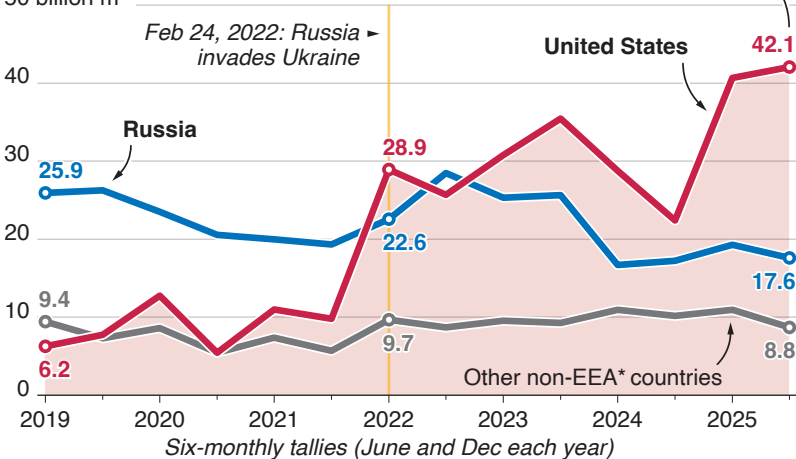

Europe's reliance on LNG imports from U.S. weaken its ability to act when defending Greenland's sovereignty

EU LIQUID NATURAL GAS (LNG) IMPORTS

50 billion m³

Feb 24, 2022: Russia invades Ukraine

*European Economic Area (EEA) comprises all 27 EU states plus Iceland, Liechtenstein and Norway

Source: Clingendael International Affairs Think Tank and Academy Picture: Getty © GRAPHIC NEWS