Congo's Ebola outbreak spreads

The outbreak in the Democratic Republic of the Congo (DRC) – caused by the rare Bundibugyo strain of Ebola – has spread to the provinces of Haut-Uélé and Tshopo, including the populous city of Kisangani

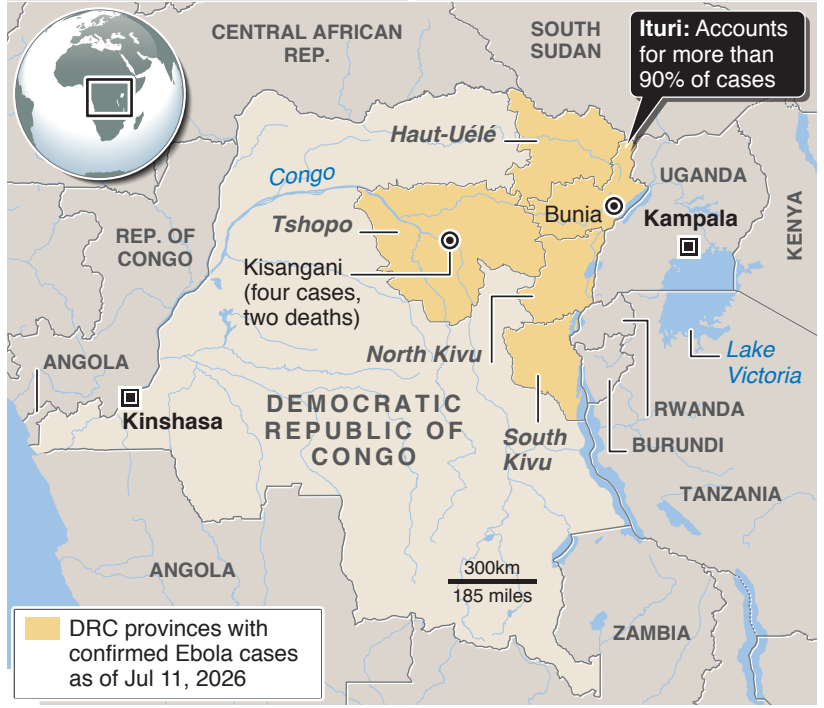

Situation as of Jul 11

- DRC: 1,926 confirmed cases and 702 confirmed deaths
- Uganda: 20 confirmed cases and two confirmed deaths
- France: One confirmed case in doctor who returned from DRC
- Case fatality rate: 36.2%
- Transmission: Spreads between people through direct contact with infected body fluids

Ebola virus

- Symptoms: Include fever, headache and fatigue, followed by vomiting, diarrhoea and bleeding

Sources: Centres for Disease Control and Prevention, Reuters Picture: CDC © GRAPHIC NEWS