Deepest attack yet on Russia energy sites

Long range Ukrainian drones struck Russian gas plants in northern Siberia almost 3,000km away, bringing Russian energy infrastructure in the Arctic within range and further threatening the struggling economy

Sources: Institute for the Study of War, Firepoint, Militarnyi

© GRAPHIC NEWS