

Top terror suspects still at large

Of the 22 "most wanted terrorists" announced by the U.S. government following the 9/11 attacks in the United States, just five are believed killed or captured during more than four years of the U.S.-led war on terror

Osama bin Laden

His latest tape accuses West of waging war on Islam and urges supporters to fight UN peacekeeping plan in Sudan

Reward $25m

Ayman Al-Zawahiri

Bin Laden's deputy. Pakistani forces killed Zawahiri's aide, Marwan Hadid al-Suri, near Afghan border on April 20

Reward $25m

Imad Fayeز Mugniyah

Wanted by FBI for 20 years, has been picked by Iran to plan retaliation in event of U.S.-led attack on Iranian nuclear sites

$5m

Muhsin Musa Matwalli Atwah

Wanted for 1998 U.S. embassy bombings in Kenya and Tanzania. Reported killed in Pakistan April 12

KILLED

Abdelkarim Hussein Mohamed Al-Nasser

$5m

Abdullah Ahmed Abdullah

$5m

Ali Atwa

$5m

Anas Al-Liby

$5m

Fazul Abdullah Mohammed

$5m

Hasan Izz-Al-Din

$5m

Ahmed Mohammed Hamed Ali

$5m

Sheikh Ahmed Salim Swedan

$5m

Abdul Rahman Yasin

$5m

Fahid Mohammed Ally Msalam

$5m

Ahmad Ibrahim Al-Mughassil

$5m

Ali Saed Bin Ali El-Hoorie

$5m

Saif Al-Adel

$5m

Ibrahim Salih Mohammed Al-Yacoub

$5m

Muhammad Atef Al-Qaeda military chief

KILLED

Khalid Shaikh Mohammed

CAPTURED

Ahmed Khalfan Ghailani

CAPTURED

Mustafa Mohamed Fadhil

CAPTURED