

Indonesia tops bird flu death toll

Two Indonesian teenagers have died of bird flu, taking the number of fatalities in the country to 44, making it the world's worst affected country. Pending confirmation by the World Health Organization, it takes the total number of deaths in 2006 to 61, higher than any other year to date

Total human death toll: 137

Total human cases: 235

Infected areas

More than 209 million poultry have died or been culled worldwide since January 2004

